

BIG CONVENTION WILL MEET HERE

Baptists Decide to Hold Session
Next Year in This City.

NOTABLE CLOSING SCENE

Dr. Willingham to Visit Foreign Fields—Department of Evangelism to Be Started.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHATTANOOGA, TENN., May 14.—The last day of the Southern Baptist Convention was the day of the morning session, the great cause of foreign mission was claimed the attention of the body.
There were various reports on various phases of this work, and the addresses were all of high order.

One of the most interesting incidents of the morning was the introduction of a number of young men and women who are already under appointment to go to foreign fields. There were about twelve

REV. DR. R. J. WILLINGHAM, Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, who has been signally honored by being invited to visit the mission fields of the board, particularly in the Far East, at the expense of the denomination.

of these. A number of returned missionaries were present and were presented to the body. The report on items of special interest in foreign missions was read by Rev. George W. Trull, of Texas. It mentioned the large increase in the number of baptisms, commended the caution used in accepting members, and expressed the hope that the debt of $20,000 might be a stimulus to the churches to increase their gifts to this great work. Rev. John Lowe, missionary to China, made a burning appeal for the work in that great kingdom. He was followed by Rev. E. Z. Simmons, of Canton, who was greeted by the convention's rising on mass. Mr. Simmons has been on the field thirty-six years.
He contented himself with a few words of earnest greeting, and promised to speak later fully.

Striking Scene.

Dr. Willingham closed the discussion in a thrilling speech of ten minutes. At the conclusion of his address, he called on the returned missionaries, and all under appointment to rise and stand. He then asked the young men and women who were willing to join that company of workers to stand. It was a thrilling and memorable scene. One after another rose, to the number of twenty-eight.
Baron Moxkull, of Russia, with his wife, were then introduced to the body.
The Baron is a Baptist preacher and is visiting this country in the interests of the Russian Baptist churches. He was dressed in his Russian costume. He made a very entertaining address, telling of the trials and tribulations of the Baptists and Unitarians in that country. The convention adopted a resolution asking the foreign board to consider the expediency of opening work in Russia.

To Meet in Richmond.

At the afternoon session the convention adopted resolution strongly condemning lynching.
The committee on time, place and preacher reported, recommending that the convention meet in Richmond on the Friday before the second Sunday in May, 1907, but providing that if by the 10th of January next, suitable rates at railroads and hotels, and suitable quarters for the convention, cannot be guaranteed to the satisfaction of the officers of the convention and the boards, they shall have power to select some other place.

It is so provided that if it is found that the date as above fixed conflicts with the naval display at Hampton Roads the secretaries have the right to change the date.
Dr. A. J. Dickinson, of Alabama, was chosen to preach the annual sermon.

Visit Foreign Fields.

A resolution was adopted inviting Dr.
R. J. Willingham, in view of his long and faithful service, to visit the mission fields of the board, especially in the Far East, at the expense of the board.

Dr. A. J. Bouton read the report on women's work, and followed it with a brief and earnest address. It was announced that Mrs. John O. Rust had declined the office of corresponding secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union, and that the matter has been left with the Executive Committee of the Union.

The report of Committee on Credentials showed a total attendance of 1,452, the largest in the history of the body. A resolution offered by Rev. Weston Brunner, of Washington, was unanimously adopted expressing the deep sympathy of the convention with the Baptists of San Francisco and Oakland, and recommending that a collection be taken in every Southern Baptist Church to aid in replacing the ruined houses of worship.

Department of Evangelism.

Perhaps the highest point of interest in the meeting was reached this afternoon when the subject of evangelism was under discussion. The report instructs the home board to adopt a department of evangelism, to appoint a general evangelist and associates, and to raise $25,000 for this purpose. Dr. B. H. Carroll was the only speaker, and made an address of marvelous power. Then, with entire unanimity, the report was adopted. This is regarded as the most important action taken by the convention during the past twenty-five years. A standing committee of five was provided for which committee will receive invitations for the convention two years hence and tabulate information concerning the places which offer for the convention.

On motion of Rev. George W. Trull, of Texas, Rev. Dr. J. B. Hawthorne was requested to make an address to the convention next year on some subject to be chosen by him. At night there was a great mass-meeting in the interests of foreign missions, addressed by Revs. H.
A. Griesemer, A. U. Boone, B. H. Dement and E. Z. Simmons. The convention then adjourned.

NEW STATEMENT FOR METHODISTS

their purpose, and should take their place in honorable superannuation. Some of you think that the word superannuation is unfortunate, used in this connection, but I learned the meaning of this word not in Webster's dictionary, but in a Methodist parsonage.

Victor for Dr. Tillett.

Dr. Tillett then stated that his father, after a long life of usefulness in the conference as an itinerant preacher, was honoredly superannuated by his brethren.
He also referred to the vote he cast in the Committee on Episcopacy to continue in the superannuated relation Bishops O. P. Fitzgerald and John C.
Granbery, and in great earnestness asked:

"Does any one think I cast discredit upon these men, when I voted? Neither I cast discredit upon these articles of religion by referring to their honorable superannuation."

"I endorse Bishop Wilson's speech in almost every particular. I believe all the doctrines of Methodism and I call your attention to the fact that a joint commission of the Northern and Southern Methodist Churches was presided over by Bishop Wilson a few weeks ago that abridged the twenty-five articles of religion to eighteen for the Methodist Church of Japan. Had this statement already been made the abridgement of these articles for the church of Japan would not have been necessary."

Immediately upon the conclusion of Dr.
Tillett's speech, Dr. John H. Mollen, of North Texas delegation, for the Methodist Church of Japan, had the restoration of these articles for the church of Japan read. The motion carried and the vote was ordered. Upon the announcement of the result the conference immediately adjourned.

The adoption of the resolution is considered a great victory for Dr. W. P.

Tillett, and to-night he is being promi-nently and widely discussed in connection with the Episcopacy.

How They Voted.

The Virginia Conference delegation voted as follows on the resolution for a restatement of faith:

For the resolution—James Cannon, Jr., B. F. Lipscomb, J. C. Reed, W. J.
Young, R. H. Bennett, W. J. Davis, Grandy, W. W. Smith, T. J. Basham, R. E. Blackwell.

Against—Paul W. Whithead, R. T.
Wilson, E. J. Mosely, P. E. Hines.

The Baltimore Conference delegation voted as follows:

For—John A. Kern, H. P. Hamill, Against—Collins Denny, F. J. Pret-tyman, J. A. Anderson, A. B. Pugh, T. T. Flahburn, M. T. Walton, Chas.
Armstrong, A. E. Huddleston.

The bishops in their meeting to-night appointed Senior Bishop W. A. W. Wilson, chairman of their commission, and also appointed him to preach the ordination sermon at the consecration of the newly elected bishops next Sunday morning.

Invited to Richmond.

A memorial from the preachers' meeting of Richmond, Va., was presented at the conference last night, and the next session there in 1910. Universal regret is expressed that Mr. John P. Branch could not be present.

The committee on itinerancy recommended non-concurrence in several memorials requesting legislative action, and controlling conference evangelists. The committee on publishing interests recommended the adoption of resolutions that the conference re-affirm the action of the committee on publishing interests of the General Conference of 1892 with reference to the petition of the International Typographical Union, seeking to unionize the publishing house at Nashville, Tenn.

The committee says it is not within its province to take action. The memorial looking to the removal of the headquarters of the extension board to Louisville from Oklahoma City was concurred in.

A telegram was read just before the close of the session from Vice-President Fairbanks stating that he would arrive in Birmingham on Thursday night and remain in the city all day Friday. The message asked if this would be satisfactory to the conference, and upon motion it was decided to hear from Mr. Fairbanks and Dr. W. S. Matthews, of Berkeley, Cal., the fraternal delegates from the Methodist Episcopal Church, on Friday evening.

School Exhibit.

Dr. J. G. Hammond and Dr. Lundy Harris, secretary and assistant secretary of the Board of Education of the church, have arranged a splendid exhibition of the educational work of the churches.
The exhibit is located in the Masonic Temple, and though only completed yesterday, it has already been visited, not only by hundreds of the delegates, but also by many of the residents and visitors to the city.
In a general way, the exhibit consists of a collection of the educational system of the schools under the control of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. There are over thirty large schools represented, and the work of these fills entirely the four sides of the large hall.

First, the exhibit is divided into a large map of the United States, marked in colors, showing the location of all the educational institutions of the church.
Of course, Vanderbilt University is the central figure. The map shows that the church has under its fostering care 156 schools and colleges. The institutions are classified as follows: One university, twenty colleges and 156 secondary schools and academies. The total income of all these schools, not including tuition, aggregates $1,778,738 over the receipts of 1906.

The institutions are located principally in the Southern States. In fact, all are in the Central States—one each in Oregon, Montana and Washington, and the bulk of them are under the direct control of the Board of Christian Education.
The exhibit is represented by some magnificent views of its campus buildings, and around these are grouped the exhibits of the other schools.

The exhibit of the schools of the Randolph-McKenzie system of schools consists of a series of photographs of the various college buildings, the principal ones being the Woman's College, at Lynchburg, the college at Ashland and the two academies at Bedford City and Front Royal.
There are also pictures of the institutes at Danville and Blacksburg.

Dr. W. W. Smith is the chancellor of these schools. The system embraces thirty-four buildings, 109 teachers and 1,300 students.

Trinity's Part.

Dr. J. C. Kilo, president of Trinity College, of Durham, N. C., has, perhaps, the most complete exhibit. The doctor is loyal to the flag, and he has floating above the main college building a large United States flag.

Another of the important institutions represented is the Southern Bible and Theological Seminary of Kansas City. The peculiar feature of this school is that it does not compete with either secular nor religious schools. It is in a class all by itself. It is the one school for the training of deaconesses in the church.

The only religious church represented is the Kwame Ninsin, of Koba, Japan.
This exhibit consists of charts, drawings and paintings by the students. The school was founded in 1889, and it has thirteen teachers and 210 students. Its course of study is both academic and religious, and has a library of 6,889 books, and the total expenses of a student for a year's tuition is only $4.

WISH TO CHANGE.

Local Methodist Preachers Oppose Removing Time Limit.

The Methodist preachers' meeting yesterday had quite a lively discussion over the question of removing the time limit in the pastorate. The report of the committee at the General Conference at Birmingham, in favor of an extension of the time and the fact that the minority reportedly favoring the removal of the limitation entirely, brought about the discussion.

The conservative element largely predominated and a resolution was adopted maintaining the Virginia delegation to vote for the maintenance of the present four-year system.

Dr. Barnes Here.

Dr. Thomas H. Barnes, the "Tall Sycamore of Nansunmond," is in the city and is stopping at Murphy's.

Dr. Barnes is here to attend the meeting of the Board of Visitors of the Medical College of Virginia, of which he is a member and which meets to-day. He was warmly greeted by many old friends about the lobby last night.

Among the prominent visitors at Murphy's are Judge E. M. Fulton, of Wise; Judge A. A. Skeen, of Dickinson; Dr. L.
B. Barham, of Surry, and Hon. Pembroke Pettit, of Pulaski.

Failed of Quorum.

The Common Council, which was called to meet in session yesterday last night, considering the Clark Spring property matter, failed of a quorum. No further call was issued.

Small Blaze in a Kitchen.

A small blaze in the kitchen in the rear of 708 North Second Street, was the result of about two thousand five hundred candles last night a few minutes before 11 o'clock. Engines No. 2 and 4 and Truck No. 1 responded to the alarm. The damage was slight and the dwelling was occupied by negroes.

FOUR CARS BURN NEAR PETERSBURG

Probably Caught From Sparks
From Engine of Norfolk and Western.

WILL VISIT THE BATTLEFIELDS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., May 14.—Four freight cars, loaded with merchandise shipped by Petersburg merchants, were burned up yesterday on the Seaboard Air Line's "connecting link" with the Norfolk and Western tracks, near the city.
The fire is supposed to have been caused by a spark from a passing engine on the Norfolk and Western.

A large party of distinguished New Yorkers, including Governor Higgins, General Daniel Sickles and a number of congressmen and members of the Legislature are expected to come to Petersburg Thursday night, May 14th, to spend Friday visiting the Civil War battlefields around the city. The party will travel in a special train and will be in charge of A. J. Zabriskie, secretary and engineer of the Gettysburg and Chattanooga Battlefield Commission. C. A. Clark, the well known battlefield guide, has been appointed to lead the party. The line of the Petersburg, they will leave for Fred-ricksburg Friday evening.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

The Baptist Sunday School Association of Petersburg and vicinity held its regular monthly meeting at the Central Baptist Church, yesterday afternoon, May 14.
President William Pliecher presiding. The April reports of the eight schools comprising the association showed a total register of 1,642 scholars; attendance, 1,380; collections, $151.20.

Bishop A. M. Randolph, of the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Virginia, preached to a large congregation at Grace Church last evening and confirmed a class of twenty-nine persons.

The colored Baptist General Association of Virginia adjourned its evening meeting at the most successful five days' meeting at the Ebenezer Church. Visiting colored clergymen preached in all the colored Baptist churches yesterday.

The funeral of Mrs. Robert Michaels took place this afternoon. Mrs. Michaels died yesterday at her husband's home on Pine Street.

The funeral of Mrs. Nannie H. Anson, wife of Dr. Richard A. Anson, of Washington, took place this morning from St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Mrs. Anson died yesterday at her home in Washington. Her death occurred in Washington Saturday evening.

CHURCH WILL BE UNDER DIOCESE

vacated the chair, which was occupied for the remainder of the time by Lieutenant-Governor Ellison, of the Advisory Board.

Relation to the Diocese.

Mr. Joseph Bryan made a short address to the association as to the object for which the meeting had been called. He said that in a meeting of the advisory board held last week he, as one of a committee appointed by the board, had drawn up in writing a statement which he would read to the association and which, he thought, would fully explain the relations of the Southern Diocese of Virginia to the church at Jamestown, and meet the wishes of all present. He then read the following paper:

"Whereas, the National Society of Colonial Dames of America has been organizing the historic connection of the Protestant Episcopal Church with the church which formerly existed at Jamestown, requests Right Rev. Alfred M. Randolph, Bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, to consecrate said building with the following provisions:

"That, A. P. V. A. having the legal title to the said building or chapel, shall hold the same for the purpose for which it is consecrated—namely, for the use of the church and for the reception of memorials to persons who have advanced the glory of God and the good of humanity in this country."

"That, in respect to the use of the chapel it is earnestly hoped and desired that, Jamestown being the birthplace of religious as well as civil life in Virginia, this spot and this chapel may become a sacred tie in the religious life of our State and country, and be an influence drawing all Christian churches together, especially those who took part in the colonial history of our Commonwealth, and that they shall be welcomed to hold their own religious services from time to time therein.

"That arrangements for such services may be had in the chapel shall be made with the Jamestown Committee of the A. P. V. A., or such other committee as the said association shall place in charge of the said chapel, in accordance with this statement as to its use.

"That, A. P. V. A. shall continue to collect and receive the customary fees or contributions from the visitors to the church, except offerings made at the time of religious services, which shall then go to the church or denomination holding such services.

"That any furniture, ornaments or memorials which may be placed in said chapel shall be in accordance with its sacred character as a commune house, and that the character and position of such objects shall always be subject to the approval of the said A. P. V. A.

"That, A. P. V. A. will welcome the erection in the church of a memorial to the Rev. Robert Hunt, the first Christian minister in Virginia, subject, however, to the conditions of the preceding clause."

Judge William W. Old, of Norfolk, moved that, in event of Bishop Randolph not being able to consecrate the church at Jamestown, other provision for its consecration should be made in the paper before it was voted on. After some discussion, the words, "or his successor," were inserted after Bishop Randolph's name in the second paragraph.

Mr. Conway Sams, of the Norfolk A. P.
V. A. branch, said that he was much opposed to any building, whatever, being placed over the ruins of the Jamestown church. He thought the ruins the most valuable in America. He considered that permission, which had been given to the Colonial Dames at a partial, not general, meeting of the association, should be rescinded, and that whatever was done for the protection of the old Jamestown church foundations should be done by the A. P. V. A. alone. Mr. W. G. Stan-ard stated, in reply to Mr. Sams, that the proposition from the Dames to erect a building had been endorsed by both the central committee and the general association of the A. P. V. A., meeting in June of 1891.

Mr. Sams reiterated his statement, and a lively discussion seemed imminent, when the chair ruled that Mr. Sams's motion was out of order, and therefore could not be considered.

Bishop Randolph's Views.

At this juncture, the Rev. C. Braxton Bryan, of Petersburg, stated that he wished to read a paper from the Rev. A. M. Randolph, bishop of the Southern Diocese of Virginia, who was prevented by arrangements made for his visitations from being present at the meeting. He said that Bishop Randolph had just been in Petersburg; that the paper he held contained the bishop's exact views in regard to the situation.

The substance of the bishop's views may be stated as follows:

"The bishop, in regretting his absence on account of his Episcopal duties, said that we had neglected our monuments for two centuries, but that the present generation was witnessing a revival of our past. He said that he had been in Petersburg, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of
ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church,
ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church,
ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church, and that he had seen the ruins of the old church,
church, and that he had seen the ruins of
